Jonathan, in our phone conversation on 10/31/02, you suggested that:

- I would ask users to install a free anti-spyware program to prevent them from installing spyware on their computers.

I have done that, and the program has been quite effective. I have had no instances of spyware being installed on any of the computers that are part of this project.

I agree that we should continue to monitor this issue closely and be prepared to take action if necessary.
