Ari and John-

Looking forward to speaking with you this afternoon.
Please us the following line:

866- 740 1260
Code: 4421221

We'd like to use the call to update you on the consumer policies of DirectRevenue, and to hear more about CDT's initiatives in this area in the hope that we might be able to find areas of common ground

Best,

Joshua

That works for me. I need to check with John Morris, but let's assume that is ok.

Joshua,

Thanks for following up.

I thought that we had settled on 10am on Thursday. If that doesn't work, I can talk any time after 2pm. Friday would be more difficult for me.

Ari

Ari-

It was good to speak with you on Monday.
Can we get a time on the book for Thursday PM or Friday PM?

Today at 3PM

Many thanks,
Joshua

Josh,

I was out of the office on Friday. Please call me today.

Ari

Ari-

I don't think that I've had any response back from you to my email and message of Friday.

Curiously, in the interim, I have received communications from our customers complaining that you were trying to intimidate them and interfere in their contractual dealings with Direct Revenue. If this indeed is the case it would be a very serious matter. I certainly hope that the reports that I am hearing are not true, but we'll need to speak immediately to avert immediate legal action against you and CDT.

I am happy to speak with you concerning our practices. From what I am hearing from others, your understanding of how we actually operate is badly misinformed. Please be in touch with me prior to 10 AM tomorrow morning in the hope that we can address these issues.

Sincerely,

Joshua

.....Please call me. I'm the CEO of Direct Revenue. Dan Doman, our CTO, mentioned speaking with you here in NY this week. I later heard, from someone else, that you felt that Direct Revenue was "unwilling" to speak with you. This is certainly not the case. We're delighted to talk and would really like to hear your thoughts and have the benefit of your input.

Please give me a call.

Best,

Today at 3PM
